RANG UMANG

Extension Activity: Promoting education in the neighbouring community

A Proposal by the Marketing Club and Research Committee of SCMS Nagpur

Concept Note _____

Extension activities are one of the vital means of sensitizing the student's community towards the social issues. Their engagements in activities create a sense of responsibility and augment their holistic development. One of the primary ways the extension activities can be done is by engaging with the local community in order to closely observe and understand their problems and to identify the support the community needs. This could be done by organising events and activities that help in bringing together the students and local community.

The Objectives _____

1. To sensitise the students of SCMS, Nagpur on the problems of lower income group in the neighbouring community of Wathoda Campus.
2. To build awareness and aspirations to pursue higher education amongst the children and parents of neighbourhood community, resulting in lowering the dropout rates from schools.

The Plan _____

Since the neighbourhood community predominantly comprises lower income group, the children are deprived of choices and facilities, this result in a development of low self-esteem and aspiration. The inclination towards Higher education and discontinuation of education at early childhood has been clearly established in many studies. In a study of 15 states conducted by NCAER<sup>1</sup>, it was found that the children of poor families are less likely to be enrolled in schools than children of better-off families. If the students are engaged in some activity which may provide them with an opportunity to visit campus, know about the higher education and how education can help them build a future for themselves and their families, this will lead to building aspirations and motivate them to pursue higher education.

The Activity _____

A group of children shall be invited to the college campus on a Sunday and they shall participate in a drawing competition. The competition shall be open for students in the age group of 6 to 14 years. Mostly students from the targeted lower income groups from the neighbourhood community shall be called to participate in the event. This will provide this small group of 25 children an opportunity to interact with the students of SCMS. This interaction shall be focussing on the importance of education and now an educated individual helps in development of a strong nation. A visit to the campus and its environment shall help in building aspirations of the children. The student's tête-à-tête shall also be aiming to motivate the students and their accompanying parents to pursue school and higher education

The Implementation Plan _____

The students of SCMS shall visit the community around the Wathoda Campus and invite the members to participate in the event. The Two hour event shall begin at 10:30 Am and conclude at 12:30 PM. Drawing competition shall be followed by interaction of the SCMS students with parents and children. Prizes shall be distributed to the winners and certificates of participation shall be given to all participants.

The Budget _____

The activity can be done with a provision of Rs. 10,000(Rupees Ten Thousand Only) which will cover the cost of materials for competition, snacks for participants and certificates and prizes for the winners.

EVENT OUTCOME- RANG UMANG

The event was organized with an objective to engage with the local community & fulfil the institutional commitments towards social responsibility.

The event saw participation of more than hundred students comprising mainly of school going children from underprivileged section of the community around the campus.

The institution was able to engage with parents & guardians and this occasion was used to build a positive image of the institution in the community.

The wide coverage in local newspaper ensured that the message reached a large section of the society.

Lastly, the students of SCMS, Nagpur, also were sensitized about the needs & problems of the underprivileged children thus shaping their minds & helping them become better citizens.
